

Bulk & Own Label

We have earned an outstanding reputation for exporting bulk whisky and developing own-label products for our customers.

Bulk

Celtic Dew can supply Scotch Whisky in bulk for bottling locally. We offer a wide range of bulk options for our customers, including:

- Blended Scotch Whisky for local bottling, as a 100% Scotch Whisky,
- Blended Malt Scotch Whisky,
- Blended Grain Scotch Whisky.

Each of these products can be tailored to suit the needs of our customers.

They, export bulk Scotch Whisky all over the world. It can be delivered in tankers holding some 24,700 bulk litres or 20ft containers holding 16,000 bulk litres.

Each 20ft container holds 80 plastic drums with a 200 litre capacity each. Our customers determine which option best suits their requirements.

Through forming partnerships with our customers, we have extensive experience of working together to develop products that delight consumers.

Own-Label

We are experienced in providing the finest Scotch Whisky, distilled, blended and bottled in Scotland, with the customer's own brand and label, from value-for-money to exclusive premium brands.

This hallmark service is of particular importance to customers who are creating their own brand for a particular market.

We have an established and outstanding reputation, maintained over many years in this sector and understand the importance of quality product presentations.

Our approach towards meeting the needs of individual customers is very flexible.

We always put the same level of commitment and passion into creating bespoke products for our customers as we do into creating products for our own portfolio.
